

An aerial photograph of a city block, likely in Chicago, showing various buildings, streets, and green spaces. The map is overlaid with a complex network of red and black lines, and numerous black dots. A prominent pink line outlines a specific area on the left and bottom. A pink label '51-20-0002071' is visible near the bottom right. The map appears to be a technical drawing or a data visualization overlaid on a real-world aerial image.

This is an aerial photograph of a residential neighborhood, likely in a city, with various houses and buildings. The image is overlaid with a complex network of red and black lines, black dots, and numerical labels. A prominent pink line runs along the left and bottom edges of the map. A pink label '51:20:000' is visible on the right side. The red lines outline individual properties, while black lines and dots form a more intricate network, possibly representing a utility or data system. Numerical labels are scattered throughout the map, often near specific points or lines. The overall scene shows a mix of greenery, paved areas, and built structures.
